VOL. V....NO. 1527. NEW-YORK, MONDAY, AUGUST 11, 1856. PRICE TWO CENTS.

on a barrel in a curious way which passed through the building near the engine room, and when found was in a sitting position, but overturned down. He was a colored man, about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and three children, who reside in Eighth-street, near Third-avenue. He was employed as a laborer, and was for many years in the employ of Ex-Alderman Kent, of the Eighth Ward, and was extensively and familiarly known as "Ike." He was a large, athletic man, and was much liked. The last two bodies were taken to the Eighth Ward Station-house. They were both much disfigured from the effects of steam and bruises.

"Ike's" wife arrived at the Station-house soon after his body was brought in, and upon viewing it she manifested the most intense grief.

THE INJURED.

ALBERT BRADSHAW, foreman of the factory, was taken out of the ruins very badly injured. He was standing in a door between the engine room and the blacksmith-room, and was pinned against the door until relieved by the removal of the rubbish. He was taken to his residence on Third-avenue near Seventeenth-street.

JOHN MCGUCKINOCK, polisher, was taken out half an hour after the explosion, severely injured.

WM. WOODING, an apprentice, was seriously injured.

JOHN HOLL, Jr., was at work on the second floor and was badly burnt by steam. He was found on the first floor, and says that it was so dark that he could not see on account of the steam. He is badly burned about the head and hands, but will recover. Lives in Eighteenth-street, near Third-avenue, but was taken to the Brooklyn City Hospital, where he is attended by Dr. HICKS. His father, a machinist, works on the third floor, the part destroyed, and had just left the room and went to the front part of the building, on the first floor, which was uninjured, and escaped a subject by leaping out of the window.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL, sheet-iron straightener. He was at work at the trip-hammer in the basement. His head, breast and legs are badly burnt, and he is also burnt inwardly. He was taken to his residence, No. 11 Eighteenth-street, and is attended by Dr. BUEL, who thinks he may recover.

JOHN WOOD, engineer, slightly injured—scalded and cut about the head. He was taken to his residence in Eleventh-street. He has been in the employ of Messrs. W. & Co. about one year, and has been in this country about two years. He was formerly an engineer in England.

WILLIAM WALTON, engineer, aged 30, is injured seriously—lives in Tenth-street. His skull is badly fractured over the left temple, arms and legs burnt and bruised, and is also injured internally; was in the boiler room and blown through the wall. He was taken to the Brooklyn City Hospital by Officer HULL of the Eighth Ward Police. His recovery is doubtful.

PERRY CASTOR, a German, locksmith, was in the upper story; one arm is badly broken, back and other parts injured. Expected to recover. He is also in the Brooklyn City Hospital, under the care of Dr. HICKS.

RICHARD MOORE, cabinet maker, resides in Tenth-street, near Third-avenue. He was in the third story and jumped out, and had his back and legs injured by falling upon the dash board of a wagon.

GEORGE DAIS, machinist, resides in Tenth-street; was taken out of the ruins with arms badly burnt and injured internally. Taken home.

MARKS KLINTON, locksmith, was on the fourth floor, he escaped through a window with a slight wound on his head. Lives at the corner of Fourteenth-street and Third-avenue.

JAMES RILEY assisted in rescuing four men from the ruins, before the walls were pulled down. Against the advice of friends he ventured into the ruins for another man who was calling for help. While thus engaged a beam fell upon him, and broke his left leg, just below the knee. He was taken to his residence, in Third-avenue, corner of Sixteenth-street, where he was attended by Dr. FALKENBURG.

FREDERICK GALLNER was at work in the filling room; had his head badly cut—one gash extending from the nose over the crown; he also had one leg broken, and was otherwise injured. He was taken to his boarding house, corner of Third-avenue and Sixteenth-street, where he was attended by Dr. FALKENBURG.

JACOB HIRE, locksmith, was at work in the third story, and was injured by jumping from a window. He was taken to the house corner of Third avenue and Sixteenth-street.

—— PAUL, another locksmith, was taken to the same house, with his skull fractured.

GERSON HEGELER, slightly injured; taken to corner of Twentieth-street and Third-avenue.

Mr. MCALLISTER, of Engine Company No. 19, had two fingers of his right hand badly jammed, while at work removing the rubbish.

Three boys, named JOHN FITZGERALD, JACOB HEGELER and JAMES ALLEN, were slightly injured by jumping from a window.

FREDERICK GALLNER was in the second story; had his arm fractured, and head and body badly bruised. He was taken to the residence of a friend, in Grand-street, New-York.

Among those citizens who were particularly active on this occasion, in directing and aiding the sufferers, we noticed the Chief of Police, JOHN S. FOLK, Mayor HALL, Alderman VAN BRUNT, of the Eighth Ward; Alderman SHAW, of the Tenth Ward; Supervisor WYCKOFF, Eighth Ward; JOHN L. SPALDING, Esq.; PETER G. RANKIN, Esq.; ex-Alderman STURWELL, JOHN F. HULL, of the Eighth Ward Police, and others.

Drs. MCDONALD, BUEL and WILLIAMS were present and rendered all the aid to the sufferers in their power.

Conspicuous among the workers until a late hour at night were to be seen Mr. RITNER (who was in his office at the northwest corner of the building at the time of the explosion) and his associates, Messrs. LUKE and ANDREW J. HAZELTON.

The firemen worked manfully. When the alarm was sounded they turned out promptly. As late as 12 o'clock we noticed on the ground at work members of Engine Companies Nos. 19, 21, Hook and Ladder No. 4, and Hose No. 8.

Messrs. WILLIAMS, CROSS and CHESLEY, of Engine Company No. 21, removed a man, at great personal risk, who had fallen through from the second floor, and lay confined in a dangerous position, and where he soon would have been killed by the falling bricks and timbers, but for his prompt removal.

Messrs. GREGORY REDDING and EDWARD LAUGHLIN, in the employ of STERNS, BRADLEY & BOLTIN, Broadway, New-York, rescued five men, at great personal risk, more or less injured, who were in the crash, and conveyed them to a place of safety; one of the number was pinned down by a heavy beam, which it was necessary to cut off before he could be removed.

THE ENGINE.

The immediate cause of the explosion is a mystery; but it seems, from all we can gather, that there must have been some flaw in the boiler, unknown to the engineer. It was removed, very currently, during yesterday, that notice had been given that the boilers were to have been repaired this week, but from careful inquiry we are satisfied that the rumor has no other foundation than the fact that the furnace and brick work about the boiler was to have been repaired. The engine and boilers were made 18 months ago by Messrs. C. B. HAWORTH & Co., and have been in use only 11 months. The Company paid $7,000 more for this machinery than they would have purchased of other manufacturers, as they wished to have everything as perfect as possible. The engineer states, and his statement is corroborated, that at 15 minutes before 4 o'clock there was an abundant supply of water in the boiler, there was only 25 pounds of steam up, and it was not supposed that the steam would escape at so low a pressure, while the capacity was much greater.

THE LOSS OF PROPERTY.

The loss on buildings, machinery and stock is roughly estimated at $40,000. It will not probably exceed this amount, but when the loss of property upon the interruption of business to the factory, upon the part of the Company, is considered, it will be found to be much greater.

The Company have insurance to the amount of $30,000, as follows:

Brooklyn Insurance Co., $5,000
Atlantic Insurance Co., Brooklyn, $5,000
Merchants' Insurance Co., $5,000
Trades' Insurance Co., $5,000
Home Insurance Co., $5,000

The Foreign Trade.

The Foreign Trade returns for the past week, at the port of New-York, show an active movement in both departments of Import and Export. The aggregate entries in the former, including the Dry Goods trade in our last paper, are $4,000,681; a material falling off from the very heavy weeks in July, and comparingly more encouraging with the corresponding season in 1855. The entries the past week, 1856, were $3,000,711; and the year previous, $4,107,816. The Exports of Domestic Produce, the past week, foreign, as per table, $1,274,679, against $944,807 same week last year; and $697,321 same week in 1854. What makes this large sum to make-weight the more remarkable, is the fact that it is made up, in a great measure, of Breadstuffs and Provisions. The Export of Specie, separate from the above, amounts to $1,870,320, against $870,658 same week last year. The aggregate embraces $853,848 of the Mexican Silver recently received here per Ocean Queen, reshipped to China and re-shipped from New-Orleans on Saturday, the additional sum of $230,000 in Silver. The interior exchanges, particularly with Philadelphia, have ruled in favor of this City, and some considerable sums in Gold Coin have been received by express. But the large export movement and an accumulation of $400,000 in the Government Sub-Treasury will probably count heavily against the Bank reserves on the average to be made up this afternoon; though the loss will be deemed less material than it might otherwise be considered, as we are on the eve of another half-monthly arrival from the Isthmus, and the 1st day of the month falls on Monday next week. The balances to the credit of all accounts in the Sub-Treasury on Saturday afternoon, stood $12,871,491, against $12,465,500 at the close of the previous week.

According to the official monthly returns of the Foreign Trade at New-York, rendered by the Custom-House, and which we published in tabular form this day week, the Imports of Foreign Merchandise for the calendar year, from the 1st January to the 1st August, amounted to.. $148,000,000
Add the week in August.. 4,000,000
Total to date.. $152,000,000
Against same time, 1855.. 177,176,884
Increase to date.. $40,823,116

The same tables make the Exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods, including Foreign reexported, from 1st January to 1st August.. $47,150,000
Add the week in August.. 2,274,679
Total to date.. $49,776,679
Against same time, 1855.. 97,847,987
Increase to date.. $13,139,311

The Foreign Exchanges, relief on London has run through the week, but the receipt of two packets, while on France and the North of Europe, they were quite full, with a large business on Paris for the Persia, last Wednesday. We quote on London, 109¾@110¾; Paris, 5.16¾@5.15. The supply of Sterling for the Boston steamer, the demand for which opportunity will open to-day, promises to be liberal. In addition to the Breadstuffs going forward, there is a considerable amount of Bills making against the remittances to London of American Stocks, and on the other hand, is pretty much in the control of the leading Continental drawer, who continues a regular shipper of Gold, though for the last packet or two only to a moderate amount. In reference to the export movement of Grain and Flour, which is having more than its usual influence on the English Exchanges, at this season of the year, we remark a rapid increase in the receipts of old Wheat, as well as Flour, by the Erie Canal, the difference, 270,000 bushels, of arrivals this week over last week's receipts of new Grain from the South and Southwest. The canal receipts of Corn are yet 1,400,000 bushels behind those of last season.

There was an advance in the early part of the week of 1 @ 2 cent. Wednesday in the price of Money, say 7 @ 7 cent. at call, instead of 6 @ 6 cent. as the uniform rate, and outside lenders are also taking 1 @ 2 cent. more for discounting mercantile paper, though strictly prime names have not been most abundant under this change. The Banks are discounting with about the same liberality to their customers, and the amount of currency which has been loaned their line of call loans to Brokers. The closing rate of Saturday, is much more than equal to any established change in the rate or rates of the Money Market; the dependence of a majority of the Stock Exchange, embracing the leading speculative operators, evidently for continued fair if not further favors, on the ease in the rate or rates of call loans, which may be always about bright and Banks are too willing to pay handsomely for the use of their surplus funds, for a few days' employment.
